SHORT PARAGRAPHS

Hon Geo W Julian one of the leading spirits in the Cincinnati Convention is the latest penitent He confesses in a letter to a friend The action of the Convention at Cincinnati shows that it will not fully meet the demands of the hour

The New York Herald in speaking of the French arms investigation says The Administration of President Grant not only comes out of the investigation untarnished, but its straightforward honesty in the whole transaction stands forth in marked contrast to the notorious swindling and thieving that marked every sale or purchase of arms under former Administrations

Since 1846 when the first Evangelical Church was formed in Constantinople seventy three churches have been formed in the Turkish empire in Europe and Asia comprising 3 304 members having an average attendance at their preaching services of over 18 000 and a native Protestant population of more than 18 000 The Bible has been translated into the Armenian, Bulgarian and Turkish languages and numerous schools have been established throughout the empire

Marshal Valliant who died a few days ago was the oldest of all the French Marshals his age being 82 years He was a sub lieutenant in 1809 a Captain in the Moscow campaign fought at Waterloo, was a Major in 1826 and in 1830 directed the siege of Fort L'Empereur in Algiers In 1833 he was made a Colonel in 1838 a Major General in 1845 Lieutenant General and in December 1851 he was created by the usurper Napoleon a Marshal of France He held many other prominent offices in the State and Imperial household, and had some reputation as a translator of an English military work

Mr Jefferson used to relate with much merriment that the final signing of the Declaration of Independence was hastened by an absurdly trivial cause Near the hall where the debates were then held was a livery stable from which swarms of flies came into open window and assailed the silk stockinged legs of the honorable members Handkerchief in hand they lashed the flies with such vigor as they could command on a July afternoon but the annoyance became at length so extreme as to render them impatient of delay and they made haste to bring the momentous business to a conclusion

WHY SHOULD A SOUTHERN MAN PREFER GREELEY TO GRANT

Warrenton Va May 15 1872

My Dear Sir—I have received your favor inquiring my position in the Presidential contest Of course if a Democrat is nominated I shall support his election with all my heart, but if reduced to a question of choice between Gen Grant and Greeley I shall support the former My own views of the policy, after the failure of the Cincinnati Convention to nominate a man acceptable to Democrats, that the South should hold itself aloof from the contest and not commit itself to either until the Philadelphia Convention has nominated its candidates and declared a platform of principles for if the whole South were committed in advance against the election of Gen Grant what motive could he or his party have to conciliate us? Now, why should the South array itself on the side of Greeley her unrepentant life long enemy against Gen Grant I am no apologist for the oppression we have endured from the Federal Government but will the partisans of Greeley point to one act that was odious to us that he has not justified and approved?

Nay more the tyrannical acts of Congress and [illegible] legislation were an expression of a Northern sentiment of hostility to the South for which Horace Greeley more than any other man is responsible General Grant has been the instrument of executing many laws obnoxious to us which were enacted under the pressure of public opinion created by Greeley which no man could resist The pen was mightier than the sword Now what is offered to the Southern people by the nominee of the Cincinnati Convention as a consideration of their votes Amnesty which simply means the relief of a few thousand men from the disabilities imposed by the Fourteenth Amendment But the President has no control over this It requires a two thirds vote of Congress to effect it If the Southern vote is to be bartered for such a paltry consideration as this why not bargain directly with those who have the ability to pay what they promise

Does any man doubt that the party in power would gladly grant universal amnesty to secure the electoral vote of Virginia alone If so how is there less of dishonor in a coalition with Greeley on such conditions as these than with the party who can give you now all you ask The only difference I can see is that in one case you bargain with a set of political bankrupts and adventurers, whose pledge will be redeemed about as soon as the Confederate debt and therefore they will be profuse in promises On the other hand you may at least expect to receive the small pittance required Tell me one single reason why a Southern man should prefer Greeley to Grant

They say Greeley is honest then so much the worse if he is honestly opposed to all I [illegible] They say he has abused carpet baggers which by the [illegible] are only the natural products of institutions that he planted among us [illegible] he is indebted to this class who assumed at Cincinnati to represent the South for his nomination surely honest Horace if elected will not go back on his friends They say too that he is the friend of amnesty and yet he advocated the impeachment of Johnson for pardoning rebels On his recent electioneering tour through the States when he looked on the land he had made desolate and called it peace his heart was for a moment touched with a sentiment of pity for the Southern people as well as a desire for Southern votes and he was tempted to say a few kind words for which he was swift to make atonement when on his return to New York he [illegible] to [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] of kuklux horrors and applauded the rigor of the administration in suspending the habeas corpus in South Carolina and enforcing the kuklux laws The men who as old Isaiah tells us cooked their breakfast with one end of a stick of wood and made an image of the other which they worshiped were not more unreasoning idolaters than those who are now prostrating themselves before Horace Greeley In both cases the virtue of the idol exists only in the imagination of the worshipers I don't choose to bow at such a shrine and am not led captive by such enchantments If we are compelled to go through the ceremony of choosing a master to me there is less humiliation in accepting the soldier to whom Lee surrendered his sword, than the fanatic whose treacheries have been the Iliad of our woes I am very truly yours

The ropes ran out, letting the cage with Fraker fall to the bottom of the shaft, some six hundred feet This was the first the miners knew of the fire and looking, discovered the burning brands falling down the shaft, when all the miners except those in the three hundred foot level, made their escape through the Badger shaft. The men in the three hundred foot level, upon discovering the fire went to the middle shaft and finding no way of escape, went to the north shaft and climbed from timber to timber in the shaft, to within forty feet of the surface, when finding everything on fire, they had to go back the same way a distance of over two hundred feet, when they escaped by the Badger shaft Fraker was taken out severely though not thought to be dangerously hurt The timber in both shafts is burned, but cannot tell to what depth The fire was caused by a man going into the storeroom with a lighted candle and letting it come in contact with a Giant powder box

Voorhees on Greeley

The following extract gives the concluding passages of Mr Voorhees' address to his constituents, in opposition to Democratic endorsement of Greeley

Perhaps you will ask me in conclusion, what we ought to do to be saved, and to save our country from further misrule and plunder I am not here without an answer to a question so natural Much the largest number of voters of the United States are as yet without a candidate to suit them and they will remain so even after Grant is nominated at Philadelphia and with Greeley and Grant confronting each other There are elements in existence opposed to both and more numerous than the followers of either, which may be enumerated in four classes

First—Genuine and sincere revenue reformers, heretofore acting with the Republican party This class embraces many distinguished and able men who are sincerely attached to a tariff for revenue equal taxation and their needful financial reformations They do not see that the election of either Grant or Greeley will bring about these salutary changes, and in this opinion they are largely supported by those with whom they have heretofore acted

Second A very large majority of the German population Grant is distasteful to them on many accounts and Greeley, if possible is more obnoxious The German press is more than ten to one against him The meddlesome advocates of sumptuary laws will naturally receive but little support from a people whose mode of life he has always [illegible] With Mr Greeley's ideas of the powers of the Federal Government over the local affairs of the people he might with consistency seek to regulate their domestic habits by proclamation in the event of his election A people who have crossed the ocean to find a land of freedom desire no such executive ruler They also desire freedom for trade and commerce as well as for themselves

Third—There is a very large and respectable party in this country known as Labor Reformers They are more numerous than a superficial observer would suppose and devoted to the relief of labor against the constant oppression to which it is subject This party is the avowed champion of those who are so much neglected and who are yet so powerful at the polls the workingmen of the nation Their mission is a noble one and has power in it

Fourth—In the masses of the Democratic party three millions strong there is not one in a hundred for Mr Greeley, and none for Grant They want an honest, upright man, whom they can substantially support as candidate Then they move as an organized army deserving success and securing it

Between the four classes that I have specified but little discrepancy of opinion prevails on public questions A union of action ought not to be difficult, and with such union victory is certain I speak in the interest of no man as a candidate I have no favorite now to urge I will most cheerfully support any one of the distinguished gentlemen heretofore named and if another not so prominent yet true and capable should be nominated it would be well with me and with the Democracy I shall work from now to the month of July to bring about a result so auspicious

I have high hopes of the wisdom and integrity of the Convention then to assemble I do not believe such a disaster can befall us as the nomination of Greeley I believe honor and principle will prevail If, however it should happen otherwise, and I [illegible] be laid away in my political grave alongside of the dear old party for whom I fought a hundred battles, and never one against her, all I ask of you, my constituents, whom I have known and loved so long is to write on my tomb-stone, He fought the fight and kept the faith

All Night Session of the Senate

[Correspondence Boston Globe]

The Senate could hardly adjourn without having at least one all night session. The one which terminated on May 10th at 10 o clock was longer even than is usual having continued, without recess or cessation, for over twenty three hours It is difficult to realize the strain on one's nervous and physical system of such an effort, carried out in an atmosphere like that which fills the Senate Chamber It is, nevertheless, to a looker-on and observer, a brilliant scene, especially when—as is always the case with Thurman, Carpenter and some others of the more purely legal minds—their wits become brighter and their intellects clearer as the hours roll on and the combat thickens.

The Ku Klux debate, over which the session was had, has droned along for several days past—Messrs Scott and Pratt, for the majority, consuming two days in set speeches and Messrs Blair and Bayard, for the minority, consuming three days in replies Mr Bayard droned all day and until late in the evening Bayard is a good specimen of the hereditary legislator, of whom we have had a few not as good, in this country Delaware is owned by two or (at most) three families the Bayards and Saulsburys are the Blue Hen Barons, as the Spragues and Browns and Ives are the Montagues and Capulets of that pocket State Rhode Island. With the Delaware feudatories there appears to be little or no rivalry There are just honors enough for the chief scions of the two claimants "Stapiculture" or some other Platonian law keeps them down to the requisite number to fill the two Senatorships with an occasional change to the Executive chair Bayard is a man of real ability, to be third or fourth in Senatorial honors Of course he is a man of culture, and it seems to have been carefully directed for the fit assumption of just such honors Occasionally his father, who three years ago was himself a Senator may be seen in the Chamber sitting by his son The Senator is a really fine specimen of the blue blooded "slaveocrat," being a fair minded opponent, a courteous and courtly gentleman But his seven hours' speech was almost too much for human endurance.

The long hours spent in this struggle seem to be wasted, as there is little or no prospect of the passage of either of the pending measures The passage of the amnesty bill is regarded as rather a shrewd piece of strategy especially as it was carried without the active aid of any among the so-called "Liberal Republicans" who have been its loudest if not most efficient supporters. The night [illegible] most of them out, Trumbull, Tipton, Fenton, Ferry, and others retiring to their rooms and courting sleep Mr. Trumbull entered the Chamber about ten o'clock this morning when the vote was being taken on the amnesty act—it had already passed the House—most of the active administration Senators had been working for some time before to hurry over the vote, in hopes of getting it through before the "Liberal" leader returned to his seat. They were a little chagrined at his inopportune appearance

The amnesty measure was to be signed this afternoon, and the politicians [illegible] to regard its passage as an amusing commentary on the well rounded periods of the Greeley letter of acceptance. The following is the bill that passed.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled (two thirds of each House concurring therein), That all political disabilities imposed by the third section of the fourteenth article of amendments of the Constitution of the United States are hereby removed from all persons whomsoever, except Senators and Representatives of the Thirty sixth and Thirty seventh Congress officers in judicial, military and naval service of the United States, heads of departments, and foreign ministers of the United States.

Under it, it is calculated that about 1,60[illegible] persons will be disqualified. I am not sure that this is good policy, though [illegible] cannot help feeling it to be well [illegible] The exceptions cover nearly all [illegible] the [illegible] Davis, Breckenridge, Johnson, [illegible] and others of that class, are the men whose political influence is traditional as well as pres[illegible] The really mischievous politicians and leaders of the South are men like Forrest and Gordon, who are not within the scope of the constitutional prohibition, or younger men who like Ranson of North Carolina, were not of age to hold important office when rebellion began

FRIDAY MORNING JUNE 14 1872

Unscrupulous Journalism

Unprincipled journalism receives a fresh illustration from the recent course of the Herald. Only a few weeks ago that paper was loudly demanding the election of a Legislature which would reduce freights and fares on the railroads of the State. The pretense for this demand was that railroad charges were oppressive that the people were outraged by the exactions of a monopoly that the "railroad king" was amassing immense sums of money at the expense of the producers of the State and that if this condition of things were not arrested by legislation in the interest of the people the State would be impoverished and the bulk of its wealth would be drawn into the coffers of "one only man." This was the song sung before the election. The strongest reason urged by the Herald for the election of a Democratic Assembly was the necessity of legislation to relieve the people from extortionate charges for railway transportation. The prosperity of the people, it was said, depended on the issue of this one question. The future of the State was involved in it. A Legislature must be chosen which would bring freights and fares down to reasonable rates and keep them within reasonable limits, so that the people might make something, and the railroad king might not make it all.

This was before the election. It was claptrap for party purposes. The Herald is now sailing on another course. It doubles on its track and runs counter to the course of its former utterances. For some days it has been engaged in a laborious effort to prove that railroads cannot succeed in Oregon. It tries to show that the cost of building and operating railroads here is out of all proportion to the income that can be derived from them. In its spleen against the railroads the Herald belittles the country. It says in effect that no railroad enterprise can succeed here, but must end in disastrous failure. The country cannot support railroads, and it is "simply absurd" to suppose that it can. We are told that "these roads are now paying no more than running expenses,—and it is doubted whether they are even doing that." This leaves the interest on the bonds sold to obtain money for their construction wholly unprovided for, and in consequence "these bonds must become unsaleable in the money markets of the world." As a result of all this the downfall of these railroad enterprises is predicted. A crash, it is asserted, must speedily come. Holladay will be forced to leave the State as a bankrupt. There is not business enough here to support railroads, and Oregon is so poor in population, wealth and traffic, that it is little better than idiocy to embark capital here in such large enterprises. All this, let it be observed, is from the journal, which only a few weeks ago insisted that Holladay was making too much money out of these railroads, and that it was necessary to elect a Legislature which would fix rates of transportation within reasonable limits, so that the "railroad king" might not absorb at once the whole wealth of the State and all the products of the people's industry.

A malice as venomous as unscrupulous is at the bottom of this assault on enterprises which are the life of Oregon. It is an attempt of malicious but impotent rage to find revenge somewhere for the defeat in the late election of that decayed organization known as the Democratic party. Partisan rancor [illegible] in blind fury against the interests of the State. It even disparages and defames the State itself, in the hope of doing an injury to those who represent the enterprises it hates. When an Oregon journal attempts to throw discredit upon the State's greatest financial and industrial enterprises, when it tries to produce the impression that the country is unable to sustain those enterprises, when it undertakes, out of malice, to depreciate the securities on which the growth and progress of the State depend; when it proclaims to the world that Oregon is too narrow and too poor a field for the investment of capital in large accumulations, it is time, indeed, for the people on whom such journal depends for its support, to ask themselves whether they are justified in sustaining it, or not. If the utterances of the Herald had any [illegible] weight, it would be a matter vitally affecting the highest interests of Oregon. But when it is understood that the same paper which now declares that Oregon has too little population and too little business to support railroads, only a short time ago declared that the railroads were making money too fast and that the Legislature must check their extortions by reducing their rates, the value of that paper's utterances will be appreciated.

If the statement should go abroad from any creditable source that the resources and prospects of Oregon were too low to justify the construction of railroads, the development of the State in all industries would be indefinitely retarded. Capitalists having money to invest would avoid a State whose future was so unpromising. Of course, if investments in railroads will not pay here, other great investments will not. If the State is so poor in business and resources, this is no place for capital and it will avoid us. If the Herald had any influence abroad, this is the result to which its present efforts would contribute.

That paper asserts that these railroad enterprises are "under the control of a man who can never complete them," that "he must be and will be shoved aside," that "he is to-day a source of hindrance, rather than affording a facility, in the construction of our railroads." Even those of Holladay's avowed enemies who are not natural fools must laugh at these assertions. It is the general verdict that these railroads have been pushed and are still being pushed with unexpected vigor and rapidity. Three years ago no one in Oregon believed it possible that we should to-day have so many miles of road in operation. The energy with which the construction of Oregon roads has been urged has elicited continued expressions of commendation in California and elsewhere. That these vast enterprises are somewhat in advance of the growth of the State in other respects, is apparent. But railroads, when built and put in operation, always create business, attract population, stimulate industry, open new sources of wealth, and prosper with the growth of communities which they serve. It is not necessary to suppose that Holladay is here as a disinterested benefactor of Oregon. Doubtless he is here to make money. Men may question his motives and deprecate his methods, Democrats may be very sorry that his influence is not cast with them in politics, and some of them may be very sore over the defeat which he assisted in giving them. But there is only one person in Oregon who would assert that he is a hindrance to the railroad development of the State. That person is the editor of the Herald. Under his management the Herald has become noted as an utterly inconsistent and unscrupulous sheet and a common expression of citizens here is that its sudden somersaults and present course look like an experiment to levy black mail. A paper which for unworthy purposes of its own will disparage the State and community where it is published deserves no countenance. The Herald is legitimately the thing that litigant law which the people have just condemned. That law should be repealed at once and all such journals should be forced to get a living out of their own resources or meet the fate their party has met for its many misdeeds.

Neglectful Farming

Neglect of Oregon orchards is proverbial. The effect of this neglect is seen in the rapid decay of trees and failure to replace them. In another particular the remissness of farmers is becoming quite as observable. Short hay crops are fast becoming the rule. The reason of this is that meadow land, seeded many years ago and mown regularly since, is not plowed up, fertilized or renewed. Under such circumstances timothy, our best grass for hay, gradually dwindles, and after some years the yield almost entirely ceases. The ground becomes covered with moss, in many spots the grass wholly disappears, and in others it struggles for a feeble, stunted growth. A piece of meadow land is rarely plowed up in Oregon, and the effect of this neglect can be seen here. Even in a good season light crops of hay are frequent. The remedy for this is an attention to better modes of farming.

Now this is too bad. Here is a Democratic organ professing wonderful solicitude for the "honor" of the country and sorrowing because the Washington Treaty has been so managed that "our national escutcheon is stained with a foul disgrace, and our pride humiliated by base dishonor and cowardice." In the opinion of the writer of the above, there was no dishonor or cowardice whatever in the proposition of his party to surrender ignominiously to the great rebellion, a few years ago. Wonderful, how keenly these people feel for the "honor" of the country.

The Walla Walla Statesman, a paper of the most ultra Democratic views, speaking of the Republican victory in Oregon, says that "an explanation of the result is to be sought in the legislation of two years ago. The people were disgusted with the 'Lock and Dam swindle,' the 'swamp land act,' the 'litigant bill,' and the 'Portland police bill.' Each and all these acts were infamous, and the people have stamped them with the seal of of their disapprobation."

Last year Congressman Slater was very much disposed to accept the "passive policy." He came back to Oregon, and the reception he met from the hardshell Democracy was not so flattering as to encourage him to persist in passivity. He recanted. It is now announced that he will have none of Greeley. This comes from experience. Catch him running counter to the bed rock Democratic sentiment of Oregon again!

The East Portland Democratic Era says that its party has "no use for Greeley, and cannot indorse him." It speaks of those Democratic organs which have indorsed him as "having allowed their zeal to run away with their judgment."

Before the election the Herald said the railroads were robbing and impoverishing the State. It now says they don't get enough to pay running expenses, and must fail. You pays your money and takes your choice.

OREGON

The prospect for a bridge across the Wallamet at Salem is good.

The Good Templars celebration for the Fourth at Salem has been abandoned.

Officers of the Grand Lodge of Good Templars for this State were installed at Salem last night.

Later advices from Albany deny the truth of the statement that there were cases of small pox at that place.

The Statesman says there seems to have been a sudden and favorable reaction in the real estate business in Salem during the last few days. The County Clerk recorded ten deeds on Tuesday of this week.

On last Sabbath as John Quivy, residing five miles south of Corvallis, was returning from Church, with his mother in the carriage with him, the horses became unmanageable and ran away, overturning the carriage and severely bruised Mrs Quivy.

The following officers have been elected by the Grand Lodge of I O G T now in session at Salem: G W C T, Jacob Conser of Jefferson; G W Coun, A A Booney, Buena Vista; G W V T, Miss Henrietta Miller of Milwaukie; G W Sec'y, J W Smith of Portland; G W Treas, J B McClane, of Salem.

The Annual Conference of the United Brethren has just closed its 16th session, which was a very pleasant one, Bishop Dickson presiding. Rev Fleckinger, late of the Africa mission, was in attendance. At present the Willamette District is supplied as follows: A Burnett, P L Philomath Circuit, Wm H Palmer Calapooia, M M Crow, Marion Mis J Osborne Yamhill, to be supplied Columbia to be supplied.

The Centennial Commission at Philadelphia made a very excellent suggestion to Congress to cause a complete census of the United States to be taken, commencing on the 1st of June, 1876. Thus the account current of our first great cycle of progress will be posted up, and the world will be edified with the results of the first hundred years of democratic civilization. We hope, if Congress can be persuaded to take this important step, that more effective methods may be adopted than those of the crude statute of 1850, under which our late imperfect census was taken.

Well may Greeley say, "Save me from my friends!" John Morrissey "supports him, and even declares that he ought to receive the support of the Democracy." This is one of the severest blows Greeley has received since his nomination. Morrissey and Greeley

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

ADOPTED BY THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IN CONVENTION AT PHILADELPHIA JUNE 6 1872

The Republican Party of the United States assembled in National Convention in the city of Philadelphia on the 5th and 6th days of June 1872 again declares its faith, appeals to its history and announces its position upon the questions before the country.

1 During the eleven years of its supremacy it has accepted with grand courage the solemn duties of the time. It has suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated four millions of slaves, decreed the equal citizenship of all and established universal suffrage. Exhibiting unparalleled magnanimity, it criminally punished no man for political offenses, and warmly welcomed all who proved their loyalty by obeying the laws and dealing justly with their neighbors. It has steadily decreased with firm hand the resultant disorders of a great war, and initiated a wise and humane policy toward the Indians. The Pacific Railroad and similar vast enterprises have been generously aided and successfully conducted, the public lands freely given to actual settlers, immigration protected and encouraged, and a full acknowledgment of the naturalized citizens' rights secured from European powers. A uniform National currency has been provided, repudiation frowned down, the National credit sustained under the most extraordinary burdens, and new bonds negotiated at lower rates of interest. The revenues have been carefully collected and honestly applied. Despite the annual large reductions of the rates of taxation, the public debt has been reduced during General Grant's Presidency at the rate of $100 000 000 per year. A great financial crisis has been avoided and peace and plenty prevail throughout the land. Menacing foreign difficulties have been peacefully and honorably compromised, and the honor and power of the Nation kept in high position throughout the world. This glorious record of the past is the party's best pledge for the future, and we believe that the people will not entrust the government to any party or combination of men composed chiefly of those who chiefly have resisted every step in this beneficial progress.

2 Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil political and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union by efficient and appropriate State and Federal legislation. Neither the law nor its administration should admit of any discrimination in respect to citizens by reason of race, creed, color or previous condition of servitude.

3 The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right, not merely tolerated because they are law, and should be carried out according to their spirit by appropriate legislation, the enforcement of which can safely be trusted only to the party that secured the amendments.

4 The National Government seeks to maintain an honorable peace with all nations, protecting its citizens everywhere and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty.

5 Any system of civil service under which the subordinate positions of the Government are considered rewards for mere party zeal, is fatally demoralizing, and we therefore favor a reform of the system by laws which shall abolish the evils of patronage and make honesty, efficiency and fidelity the essential qualifications for public position without practically creating a lifetenure of office.

6 We are opposed to further grants of public lands to corporations and monopolies, and demand that the National domain be set apart for free settlement by the people.

7 The annual revenue after paying current debts should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal of the public debt and except so much as may be derived from a tax on tobacco and liquors be raised by duties on importations, which should be adjusted to aid in securing remunerative wages to laborers and to promote the industries and growth and prosperity of the whole country.

8 We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union. Their pensions are a sacred debt of the nation, and the widows and orphans of those who died for the country are entitled to the care of a generous and grateful people. We favor such additional legislation as will extend the bounty of the Government to all our soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged and who in the time of duty became disabled without regard to length of service or the cause of such discharge.

9 The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers concerning allegiance, once a subject always a subject, having at last through the efforts of the Republican party, been abandoned and the American idea of the right of an individual to transfer his allegiance having been accepted by European nations, it is the duty of our Government to guard with jealous care the rights of adopted citizens against the assumption of unauthorized claims by their former Governments, and we urge a continued and careful encouragement and protection to voluntary emigration.

10 The franking privilege ought to be abolished and a way proposed for reductions in the rates of postage.

11 Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor, and the Republican party recognize the duty of shaping legislation so as to secure a full protection and ample field for capital and for labor which creates capital the largest opportunities and a just share of the mutual profits of these two great servants of civilization.

12 We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an imperative duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain lately rebellious regions and for the protection of the ballot and therefore they are entitled to the thanks of the Nation.

13 We denounce the repudiation of public debts in any form or disguise as a national crime. We witness with pride the reduction of the principal of that debt and of the rates of interest upon the balance and confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption to specie payment.

14 The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom; their application for admission to further usefulness is received with satisfaction and the honest demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration.

15 We heartily approve of the action of Congress in granting amnesty to those engaged in the rebellion and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land.

16 The Republican party proposes to respect all rights reserved by the people to themselves as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the State and Territorial governments. It disapproves of asserting unconstitutional laws for the purpose of removing evils by the interference with rights not surrendered by the people to either the State or National Government.

17 It is the duty of the General Government to adopt such measures as will tend to encourage American commerce and ship-building.

18 We believe that the modest patriotism, the earnest purpose, sound judgment, practical wisdom, incorruptible integrity and illustrious services of U S Grant have commended him to the heart of the American people and with him at our head we start to-day on a new march to victory.

THE TERRITORIES

The schooner building at Port Discovery is now nearly finished and ready for launching.

No court is to be held at Colville. Judge Lew is deciding that the order locating an Indian reservation there precludes :

The Clearwater river in Washington Territory, is reported very high. A number of large rafts of logs have been washed away.

John Mcdonagle, late of Boise City has removed to Salt Lake, where he is associate editor of the Herald, the Mormon organ.

Fayette McMullin, former Governor of Washington Territory, is now editor of the Southern Patriot, a paper published at Marion Alabama.

There are four United States prisoners and nine Territorial in the Idaho Penitentiary. It costs the Territory $2 9 and the United States $2 [illegible] a month to keep them.

The Corinne Reporter says that Malad City in Oneida county will soon be an extremely lively railroad town as it is on the line of the Utah, Idaho and Montana Railroad.

Idaho is to have a railroad after all. The line of the Utah, Idaho and Montana Railroad cuts through Oneida the most populous county in the Territory and the work of construction will soon commence.

Jacob Thompson of the Keystone ledge near Idaho City, has recently had an assay of some of his rock at the Government Assay Office in Boise City by Mr A Walers United States Assayer. His rock went $1[illegible] of gold and $1 0 03 silver per ton.

The Olympia Tribune has the following: Our Democratic cotemporary has struck its colors having removed from the head of its columns the name of Hon O R McFadden for Delegate to Congress. We presume this means the party will make a new nomination.

The Idaho Statesman says: A man named Williams who lives on Dixie Slough near Boise City, has had over thirty acres of soil and crops washed into the river. Hartley's crop is totally destroyed and the water is all around his house. William Guess crop is badly injured. John Jones Smith, who lives this side of Middleton has been obliged to move out of his house and his crop is badly injured. Also Mr Fouts has lost a good share of his crops. Many others have suffered severely. Middleton is surrounded with water and there is no business done there except by those who are positively obliged to go.

From the Walla Walla Statesman: "The saw mill and other machinery intended to expedite operations on the Walla Walla Railroad, is now in position and ready to work up timber for ties bridges, etc. The pioneer locomotive named the 'Walla Walla' is at the landing, and will be ready when wanted for the purpose of aiding in construction. A second locomotive of the same class has been ordered from the east and the two it is calculated will do all the work of transportation and at the same time are to serve the purpose of construction cars. The grading of the road bed is being steadily pressed, and it is expected to be completed from the landing as far up as the crossing of Mill Creek before the end of the current month. The work of putting down the ties and preparing the bed for the iron will be pushed forward so as to have the road completed and ready for the cars by the first of September."

The returns of the ninth census show the total value of personal and real estate in the late rebel States to be $3 329 334,000 a decline of $1 872 526 in ten years. It must be remembered that slave property was recognized at the census of 1860. That property still subsists, but is no longer subject to valuation or estimation. Each man now owns himself, and has acquired a higher value as a freeman than he could have as a chattel. The slave property of the United States at the time of its destruction has been variously estimated at from two to four billions of dollars.

The Contest Between Wilson and Colfax

The following was the vote by States in the Philadelphia Convention for Wilson and Colfax for the Vice Presidency:

Alabama Wilson 12 Arkansas Wilson 12 California Wilson 12 Connecticut Colfax 6 Wilson 6 Delaware Colfax 6 Florida Colfax 3 Wilson 5 Georgia Colfax 6 Wilson 16 Illinois Colfax 17 Wilson 25 Indiana Colfax 30 Iowa Colfax 1 Wilson 11 Kansas Wilson 10 Kentucky Colfax 20 Wilson 4 Louisiana Colfax 11 Wilson 5 Maine Colfax 10 Wilson 4 Maryland Colfax 16 Massachusetts Wilson 26 Michigan Colfax 22 Minnesota Colfax 10 Mississippi Colfax 4 Wilson 4 Missouri Colfax 2 Wilson 27 Nebraska Colfax 5 Wilson 2 Nevada Wilson 6 New Hampshire Wilson 10 New Jersey Colfax 18 New York Colfax 53 Wilson 16 North Carolina Wilson 20 Ohio Colfax 14 Wilson 30 Oregon Colfax 6 Pennsylvania Wilson 58 Rhode Island Colfax 8 South Carolina Colfax 4 Wilson 9 Vermont Colfax 10 West Virginia, Colfax, 10 Wisconsin Colfax, Arizona Colfax 2 Colorado Colfax 1 Wilson 1 Dakota Colfax one half Wilson one half District Columbia Colfax 2 Idaho Colfax 2 Montana Colfax 2 New Mexico Wilson 2 Utah Colfax 2 Washington Territory Colfax 2 Wyoming Colfax 1 Wilson 1 Total Colfax 321½, Wilson 364½. Necessary for choice 377. Tennessee voted for Maynard, Texas for Davis, Virginia for Lewis and there were three scattering votes. Before the votes were officially announced Virginia changed twenty votes to Wilson and two to Colfax. These gave Wilson the majority. Various States now changed to Wilson until Henry S Lane, of Indiana, rose and moved to make the nomination unanimous which was carried amid frantic applause. The President then officially announced that U S Grant and Henry Wilson were the nominees of the Convention, when there was a fresh outburst of applause.

The New York Times comments sharply upon the impunity of murder in that city. During the week ending Sunday evening last, eight dead bodies were found floating in the river. An unknown woman was found dead in the street and a German citizen had mysteriously disappeared. In nearly every instance the bodies showed signs of violence. The victims were mostly sea faring men and the motive of the crimes was evidently, in nearly all the cases, a mercenary one. The Times attributes this shocking result to the lack of night patrols upon the river which the police very carefully avoid. The gangs of roughs nightly congregated there are ready for any deed of blood. A man's life is safer among the Comanche Indians than in the purlieus of New York. The Times thinks the police force is in very bad hands.

DR A M LOBYEA & Co. Some two years since I was taken down with Inflammatory Rheumatism and was for some time treated by two physicians, but not better. I tried nearly every remedy I heard of but nothing seemed to do me any good until about six weeks ago I was advised by Judge J Johnson to try your UNK WEED REMEDY. I procured one bottle, but was not entirely cured. For six weeks before taking the UNK I was compelled to go upon crutches. I consider your remedy a great blessing to suffering humanity and shall deem it my duty to inform all Rheumatics of its great virtues.

PROSPECTUS.

THE THROUGH LINE!

A RAILROAD JOURNAL TO BE PUBLISHED weekly in the city of Portland Oregon devoted to the interests of railroads and kindred subjects and especially to the success of the

Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad

In the interest of this road we have already made one campaign wherein against great odds our efforts have been crowned with a fair measure of success. It is now a fixed fact recognized by the Government and becoming attractive to men of capital and influence.

With the issuance of this prospectus we enter upon a second campaign in which the friends of the great work will find it profitable to be united firm and persistent.

We shall early discuss the subject of legitimate and reasonable State aid in the prosecution of the work and as an inducement of the importance of this deserved popular enterprise.

Preparatory to a renewal of our efforts at the next session of Congress we shall fully discuss the national and local importance of the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad and through the instrumentality of The Through Line familiarize members of Congress and the American public with the subject in all its bearings. The discussion will cover the whole ground and no fact or matter which may be deemed of importance will be allowed to pass unnoticed.

The successful completion of the railroads embraced in the system of the Pacific Northwest we shall give our hearty support to all that is fair and just and especially shall we endeavor to keep alive and make useful that public sentiment in Oregon everywhere manifested in behalf of the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad.

Our knowledge of the several roads embraced in the system their origin and progress the various laws that have been passed concerning them and the country through which they pass, will enable us to give from time to time to the American and European reader reliable and important information connected therewith.

Our friends should be especially vigilant in getting subscribers and giving The Through Line a wide circulation. We have made arrangements for its publication and shall employ a competent assistant in the Editorial Department. It will be a twenty column paper and the first number will be issued on or about the 20th of June inst. Subscription $2 50 per annum.

CITY.

FESTIVAL.—The ladies [illegible] held yesterday evening in [illegible] of the Rev Dr Lindsley's church in honor of the Rev T J Weeks, missionary at San Juan and adjacent islands for the last two years and the Rev J [illegible] [illegible] was of unusual interest and in all the details successful in all its details

There was a profusion of strawberries, cream and flowers A great variety [illegible] and [illegible] presentations and a large representation present of the intelligent, the beautiful and the [illegible] was undoubtedly a rare combination of variety, harmony and effect

Strawberries, ice cream and cakes were freely used and enjoyed. The Rev Dr Lindsley presided, and gave a cordial welcome and pleasure to the occasion, and on taking the chair made a few suitable remarks worthy of the occasion. The Rev Mr Weeks gave a short statement of his mission work on the islands which was very interesting. General Babbitt alluded to Mr Weeks' short visit to the city, the pleasure he had given and the many friends he had made by his genial manner, his evident fitness for his work, the [illegible] all had in his success and concluded by presenting him in the name of a number of friends with a purse of $210 as a token of their esteem and high regard. Mr Weeks' reply was expressive of his gratitude and deep feeling for these tokens of kindness, sympathy and encouragement. With promptness, ease and elegance Mrs Ainsworth and Mrs Holbrook proceeded to present a magnificent bouquet to the Rev Dr Lindsley, Rev. Mr. Weeks and Rev Mr Rea, accompanied with a beautiful note to each, the sentiments of which were in keeping with the charming flowers. Mrs. Ainsworth as President of the Ladies' Society, made the presentation, and Mrs Holbrook, as one of its most active members, read the address. The attention during each presentation and address was deep, and the approbation following was very cordial, evidently showing that all present entered into the spirit of the occasion that called them together

We have no doubt this was a festival that will be long remembered with pleasure, and the associations connected with it will be held dear by many who were present.

OF CONDOLENCE.—Yesterday afternoon, during the session of the Circuit Court Theodore Burmester, Esq., made a motion that in consequence of the death of James B Newby, Esq., a member of the Portland bar, the Court adjourn. He reported the following preamble and resolutions, which were ordered spread upon the records

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God to take from our midst under circumstances peculiarly painful, our late brother in the profession, James B. Newby, Esq., therefore, be it

Resolved By the members of the Portland bar, that we sincerely deplore his melancholy death, and hereby tender to his bereaved and sorrow stricken family our tenderest sympathy while according to the memory of our departed brother this humble tribute of respect

That these resolutions be spread upon the records of this Court, and a copy be transmitted by the Secretary of this meeting to his afflicted family.

[illegible] NOTICES.—The Street Commissioner was very busily engaged yesterday in serving notices on a great many persons to clean up back yards and alleys which require attention. Several hundred notifications have been issued and the good effects are already apparent. It would be well for those on whom notices have been served to remember that there is an ordinance existing in relation to the observance of certain sanitary conditions. The efficient Commissioner is determined to have the ordinance in this respect strictly enforced

THE ARROW FAIR AND FESTIVAL.—The audience room of the Unitarian Chapel was comfortably filled last evening by the elite and fashion of the city. There was a bountiful supply of strawberries, ice cream and other delicacies and all seemed highly pleased with the manner in which the fair was conducted. The festivals, fairs and entertainments given at this church are always pleasant, and that last evening was fully up to the standard.

EAST PORTLAND MATTERS

[From the Era]

Two carrier pigeons are to be sent off from the top of Halsey's new hotel in Portland next Tuesday evening, one of which is expected to fly to Sitka and the other to San Francisco

The President's car [of the Oregon and California Railroad] has been repainted and presents a magnificent appearance. We have not had an opportunity of examining it in detail, and can say no more than that its exterior has been touched up by the painter's brush in a manner that shows neither lack of taste or expense

A buggy occupied by two ladies and a gentleman upset near the East Portland Park last Sunday, resulting in one of the ladies receiving some severe cuts and bruises about the face. Nothing very serious. We did not learn the names of the parties concerned

ON THE WEST SIDE.—A gentleman who returned to the city last evening after a trip to Yamhill county reports the grain looking well. The wheat heads are full and heavy and promise [illegible] early. Rain is desirable for the good of the spring sown. There is general complaint among travelers through that section of the country concerning the lack of accommodations at the tolls for the watering of animals. Travelers are required to carry water some distance for this purpose at different points. This is a matter that needs looking after

THE PAPER MAILS.—Eastern papers via the Dalles route are fourteen days old and pretty well worn out by the time they reach here. The Southern route is unquestionably the best and quickest for the transportation of all Eastern mails and it seems singular that such a change was made. An early return to the old route is desired by everybody, and we hope that Mr Underwood will see that the change is made

HORTICULTURAL FAIR.—The second Annual Fair of the Oregon Horticultural Society will take place at the Skating Rink in this city on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week. Handsome prizes are offered for the best exhibits of fruits, vegetables and flowers of various kinds and by way of interest also to the best musicians and painters

BY TRAIN.—The following quantities of freight were brought down by train last evening: One [illegible] wagons, 725 pounds dried apples, 113 sacks wheat, 7 cars flour, 2 cars wheat, [illegible] pounds dried plums, [illegible] pounds [illegible], [illegible] pounds merchandise, [illegible] pounds wool, 31 furs, 2 cars of Chinamen with baggage

NO SMALL POX.—We have received a dispatch from Albany signed by the Mayor and members of the City Council which states that "there is not now nor has there been a single case of small pox in the town of Albany"

ANNUAL MEETING.—The annual meeting of the Congregational Association of Oregon will take place on Thursday, 20th inst, at the Congregational Church in this city

TO THE CITIZENS OF PORTLAND

It is deemed proper that I should state that the Chief of Police and the Committee on Health and Police, of the Common Council, have made suitable arrangements for the care of all cases of small pox that may occur in our midst. No person within the city limits is now known to have the disease. All cases heretofore reported have been promptly removed beyond the city limits including two patients now at the City Hospital under proper treatment. The means that have come to the knowledge of the authorities have been [illegible] the Chief of Police with commendable promptness and good judgment. I [illegible] the Chief [illegible] and the proper committee [illegible] [illegible] the attention of physicians and others is respectfully called to the provisions of Ordinance No [illegible] herewith published. I take this occasion to recommend that suitable precaution be taken by all our citizens to prevent the approach of contagious and malarious diseases by cleansing and purifying their cellars and yards and providing for the safe deposit of unhealthy substances, especially during the summer months.

PHILIP WASSERMAN,
Mayor

The Punch and Judy Nominations Seriously Considered

(From the Cincinnati Gazette.)

It is impossible for any one familiar with Greeley's public career for thirty-five years to think of his nomination for the Presidency without a loud laugh. To nominate him and Brown for President and Vice President irresistibly brings to mind the European exhibition of Punch and Judy. This is one of the oldest and most comic of European exhibitions. Punch is a sort of obese personage, short, with a wide mouth, and wearing a three-pointed cap. His wife is something like him, but with a graver character, and, with his dog Toby, play important parts. The idea is to perform a domestic tragedy followed by a supernatural retribution; but the whole performed in such a broadly farcical manner as to excite the good humor and loud laughter of all beholders. This is popular in Europe, and may be here, but nobody in Europe ever thought of making Punch a king. The play, as a comic piece, is founded on just ideas of human nature; for there is nothing so comic as a tragedy performed in the manner of a farce.

Everybody familiar with the public men and history of this country must see plainly that the Cincinnati Convention has introduced the play of Punch and Judy on the stage of American politics. The little dog "Toby" is yet wanting; but, if we may judge by some of the Democratic papers, it is the intention of the great Democratic party to perform that part. Toby is, it is true, held by some stern keepers, but the play will be very incomplete without him, and we may expect to see him soon jump upon the stage, wagging his tail in the most humorous way. This is the light in which the affair looks to us. But, on the other hand, there is a large number of people who have kept their faces grave, and seriously consider the nomination of Greeley and Brown as an earnest thing. They are looking to see what strength they have; what combinations can be made, who are to get the offices, and how the great Democratic party can be wheedled round to fight for the flag and the men which for thirty years it had fought against with all its might. These things are treated in a serious way, and, when so large a number of our fellow citizens do this, we are bound to respect their views, and give to the subject as much serious consideration as we can command. In visiting lunatic asylums, many years since, we found this characteristic of all lunatics—that if we admitted their premises they were consistent and could be reasoned with. So we at once admit the premises that the nomination of Greeley and Brown is a serious affair, and that serious things may be expected of it. In this point of view we beg to offer a few observations of fact and opinion in a serious way.

The election of Mr. Greeley to the Presidency is not possible until four things take place:

1. That the Democratic party ceases to exist.

2. That the Republican party ceases to believe itself under any obligations to preserve the freedom and prosperity of the country which it had gloriously acquired, and which it is bound by every moral consideration to transmit to posterity.

3. That the people of the United States shall cease to believe that any other qualifications are required for the Presidency—the head of its magistracy, its army and its diplomacy—than the talents of a mountebank politician, or the philosophy of a French Fourier.

4. That the great body of business men—merchants, manufacturers, and farmers—now highly prosperous—shall cease to think the stability of the Government, or the fitness of the men in it, of any importance to their interests.

When this shall come to pass Mr. Greeley may be President. The want of any one of these elements will defeat him. However, we are to consider the matter very seriously, and we will add some comments on these propositions.

1. The Democratic party must cease to exist. If, at Baltimore, it nominates Greeley, no man will doubt that its death is a fact accomplished. No other Convention under the Democratic organization will ever meet. Successful or not, there is the end of it. This results from the demoralization of the Democratic party, which has been going on for several years—was manifest in the election of 1868, and more manifest in the election of last year. The causes are very obvious. By the surrender of Lee and the adoption of the amendments to the Constitution, the whole ground of principle and fact, on which the Democratic party has stood for forty years, were taken from under it. The leaders could devise nothing new which was available. Then came Johnson, with whom the Democratic party played the harlot, and was a sense of weakness. So, if there are any Democrats who wish to continue the party, they may as well remember that before they play the harlot with Greeley. Then came the "new departure" of Vallandigham, the causes of which have not been discussed. When Vallandigham was last a candidate for Congress in the 3d Congressional district he rallied the Democratic party more completely, and brought more forces into the field, than it seemed possible for such a candidate to do. The result, however, was fatal to him. It proved, as did the State election, that the Democratic party could no longer sustain men on his ground. But Vallandigham, with hundreds of other Democratic leaders, were yet young enough to hope for a future. So Vallandigham, no doubt consulting with other leaders, announced the "new departure." What he would have made of it cannot be known; but with him it died as to the Democratic party. But the idea did not die, and it is precisely the same with that which has now devised the coalition. Unfortunately, the cabal in Congress was not strong enough to carry any following, except the pitiful sore heads. There was an element of opposition to the administration of great strength and talent. This was the reform element; but that element was honest. And when those men found themselves mixed up in an assembly of political strumpets, with [illegible] who had laid down in every political gutter, and made to nominate a man, by bargain and intrigue, who had the least capacity for any [illegible] government, how could [illegible] the Convention and its managers in any other than the forcible language of Judge Matthews—"The disgraced and disgraceful Convention?" Knowing what we know of these gentlemen all over the country, we should have been greatly surprised to find them hold it in any other estimation.

Now as to the course of the Democratic party, it is only important to itself. Great effort is making to have the Democratic Convention nominate Greeley—that is, from the humorous point of view, to make the Democratic party play the little dog Toby to the [illegible] Punch. But we are bound to keep our faces straight. Suppose the Democrats do nominate Greeley, what then? What will follow? We have long since expressed our opinion that the Democrats will lose ten votes where they gain one; and, in the case of Greeley, it will be worse than that for them for the [illegible] that an examination of Greeley's [illegible] in New York will show that he is one of the very weakest candidates that could be nominated. The dust and smoke of the Cincinnati Convention having cleared away, shows that there is nothing available left to him except the "Cow Boys," which were never counted much in either army. Many of the leading Democrats declare, and many of them will stick to it, that they will never support Greeley, indorsed or not indorsed. New Jersey was Democratic and Indiana doubtful, yet it is plain that neither of them will ever vote for Greeley. The Cincinnati Convention was intended to divide the Republican party and unite opposition. It has done exactly the contrary. It has divided the Democratic party and united the Republicans more than they were before. There we leave them.

2. The Republican party has not ceased to know and to feel its duty. It has not done its whole work. It has made great advances in human progress, but it has not done all by any means. There are great questions, both of principle and administration, to be settled. The want which the reformers have felt so strongly, and yet have not clearly expressed, should be respected and regarded. So far as we can constitutionally, and without too much complication, we ought to limit the power of corruption, and provide for the integrity of administration. Men cannot be made honest by law, but the temptation to, and the power of overt dishonesty may, perhaps, be prevented by a system of administrative laws. We ought, as far as possible, to abolish our internal tax gatherers, except for spirits and tobacco—there is no need of it, and in a few years there will be no need of them. Our tariff produces $200,000,000 per year, and when the public debt is something more reduced, that will be sufficient. The tariff itself should be revised, and while the principle of protection to labor must be maintained, it should be made more uniform and equable.

Again, the civil rights bill of Sumner should be passed. The law should be equal down to the smallest thing in regard to every man, woman and child in the country. Again, so far as the Government can constitutionally aid—for it can do no more—the education of the colored race, it ought to do so. To lose any part of the mind of the country is to lose part of its strength. The diplomacy of the country should be placed on fair, straightforward Christian grounds, and while we interfere with no nation, we will give all the moral aid we can to the great principle of human rights. In one word, we would make the Republican platform, on the ground of justice and humanity, broad enough to hold all races and peoples in the common bonds of common humanity.

3. We need not comment on the fitness of a candidate for the Presidency. We have elected three or four Presidents of very moderate abilities, but never one who had not some experience—some study and fitness for executive office. The military man has one function required by the Constitution; the civilian has either legislative or diplomatic experience. Is it best to try the experiment of a man without any qualifications?

4. The business men of the country—merchants, manufacturers and farmers—have not ceased to remember, nor ever can, that changes of administration involve changes of policy; and that in the last eighty years those changes of policy have been among the most disastrous elements which have attended the commercial condition of the country. Taken on the average, the business of the country is prosperous. Would you have it anything else? Then try a change.

We have considered the nomination of Punch and Judy in that serious and profoundly practical way in which a large number of our fellow-citizens seem to regard it. To the other part, we would say, keep your faces straight—irritate no man by your laughter, and uphold the cause of justice and humanity.

She took the following quantities of freight to Victoria: 4,676 qr sks flour, 370 hf sks flour, 6 sks oatmeal, 20 cs lard, 7 cs bacon, 3 kegs dried apples, 47 boxes apples, 4 boxes eggs, 33 sks wheat, 3 cs fruit, 13 cs merchandise, 400 middlings. The following freight was taken for Sound ports: 240 pkgs general merchandise, 3,910 sks flour, 449 sks oats, 91 sks barley, 76 cs liquors, 5 reapers, 70 pkgs machinery, 307 sks wheat, 5 boxes apples, 1 bale wool, 7 boxes eggs, 95 cs bacon.

The steamer California sailed last evening for Sitka, Nanaimo and San Juan, with the following quantities of freight: 777 pkgs merchandise, 32 sks wheat, 1 bale oatmeal, 1 cow, 10 cs wine, 7 cs bacon, 23 sks middlings, 8 cs fruit, 660 sks flour, 1 cs butter, 400 sks salt, 10 kegs powder, 288 pkgs company property, 70 pkgs military stores.

During the week now closing there has perhaps been less activity in business circles than was exhibited during the week preceding, owing mostly to the fact that spring stocks are all in and transactions in fall goods have not yet begun. But few changes are noticed since our last report.

Farmers have begun the haying season, which throughout the Wallamet Valley promises very well; but we notice that in some other parts of State this crop has been somewhat injured by the late dry and hot weather. The Ensign of the 8th instant says the hay and grain in the Umpqua Valley will both be light. Throughout the Wallamet Valley there seems to be no well-founded apprehensions that our grain crop will fall short of a full average yield. For winter wheat the weather has been favorable, as that crop is so far advanced as to be beyond the probabilities of injury by drouth. But for oats and spring wheat, especially if late sown, we fear the continued dry weather will prove in a measure disastrous. The Walla Walla Statesman of the 8th instant reports the same circumstances in Washington Territory, as follows: "Our farmer friends tell us that the scorching weather we had for over a week has proved disastrous to the crop. Grain that was put in in the fall looks well, but the spring wheat is terribly scorched."

The prospects for fruit have not been worse for some years, though small fruits are not near so generally destroyed as the large varieties. Apples in some instances were quite extensively nipped by the untimely frosts in April and May, and peaches, for which Oregon was never famed, this year will be almost a total failure—every one in some orchards having been killed.

In Wheat and Flour no important changes are noted. Though the latter has been firm during the week, and prospects now indicate an advance, the former remains as at last quotations, the market being weak. Four hundred centals changed hands during the week at $1 65 per cental in sacks.

Wool has shaded off a little and now commands 44@46 cts per lb, with fair receipts at these rates. This staple, like Wheat, a short time since was unusually active, and prices were reached which may not be again for a long time, and as rates begin to settle producers may express regrets at lack of judgment in refusing to sell at the right time.

A San Francisco journal of the 7th inst. has the following in regard to Wool: "We have nothing of encouragement to report in the way of sales. Holders are not unwilling to meet the views of buyers, preferring to ship East and obtain advances at lessened rates of interest than those ruling upon this coast. Choice Fleece rules at 45@50c asked; 40@41½ offered. Burry is dull at 30@35, no buyers. Stock here about 25,000 bales.

Since January 1st, Oregon has sent to San Francisco 228,512 quarter sacks of Flour, and 57,150 centals of Wheat.

The vegetable and early fruit market is well supplied and prices are moderate. Cherries and strawberries are plentiful and 15 cents a pound is a good figure for them, and allows a fair margin of profit for the middlemen.

Groceries are quoted firm, with a tendency in some cases toward an advance.

In Hardware there is no perceptible abatement in the prices to note, and the market, though well supplied, is firm. From the Chicago Journal of Commerce of the 30th of May we quote the subjoined items on this subject:

Stocks in the hands of manufacturers are light, the demand continues fair for the season, and prices are very firm. A new English File list will be issued June 1, and an advance varying from 5 to 15 per cent. may be anticipated. Advices from Germany are to the effect that wages had advanced 25 per cent. Scissors and Penknives have advanced 25 per cent. since January 1, and German Hardware generally has advanced 25 per cent. at the same time; German Coil and Halter Chains are at 5 off net list to 10 per cent. advance, and another new list is expected to be made shortly, from which a discount may be made. Merchant Bar Iron remains firm and in good demand at unchanged prices. Cut Nails have been reduced in price 25c per keg in this market, owing to local competition. Pittsburgh prices remaining unchanged. Nails are now selling here at 4 50 rates. American Antimony steady and firm. The receipts are still light and prices unchanged. Scotch Pig is arriving more freely at the seaports, and prices are unsettled, though quotations in this market are as yet unchanged.

It is stated that the new tariff bill increases the duty on burlaps and bags to 30 and 40 per cent, respectively.

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of [illegible] has returned from visiting the [illegible] Europe, and has resumed practice at his office, Kearny street, corner of Commercial, where his old patients and those [illegible] may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor [illegible] ing out new remedies, and has [illegible] facilities for the alleviation of human [illegible].

Horrible Disease.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering [illegible] from the effects of secret indulgence [illegible] absorbed into the system! Look at their [illegible] ted and disfigured faces and their broken [illegible] tions, disqualifying them for the [illegible] or the enjoyment of life. In this horrible [illegible] sands suffer until death closes the scene. [illegible] guardians, friends, attend to those who [illegible] any of these horrible, life-destroying [illegible] they are cured for and cured before it be [illegible] them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a [illegible] made private diseases his especial study [illegible] is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is [illegible] are afflicted, or to those who are [illegible] of their friends, to be careful of the many [illegible] doctors who in all cities, publish [illegible] ing all diseases in a few days, [illegible] by using the names of eminent physicians [illegible] and other places. Be therefore careful [illegible] inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of [illegible] solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence [illegible] by the youth of both sexes to an almost [illegible] producing with unerring certainty, the [illegible] morbid symptoms, unless combatted by [illegible] measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark [illegible] eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, [illegible] rustling of leaves and rattling of [illegible] about the loins, weakness of the limbs, [illegible] blunted intellect, loss of confidence, [illegible] proaching strangers, a dislike to form new [illegible] disposition to shun society, loss of [illegible] pimples and various eruptions about [illegible] tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, [illegible] monomania and frequent insanity. If [illegible] tained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and [illegible] mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give five hundred Dollars to any person who will prove [illegible] to him that he was cured of this [illegible] by any of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, but should obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus swore-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers, [illegible] cies and other places, are tradesmen [illegible] lary too work at their trades. Some are [illegible] makers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in nine cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by [illegible] titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office [illegible] his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.
